Recent Massacre at Tokat May Change England's Policy.

STRONG PROTEST TO THE PORTE

Over the Mild Steps Taken by the Sultan to Punish the Officials Responsible For the Outrage—The Future Looks Threatening and the Outcome Obscure Eastern Question Sized Up.

CONSTANTINOPLE, March 25.—(Copyright)—The steps taken by the sultan to punish the Turkish officials who are held responsible for the massacre of 100 Armenians at Tokat, in the Sivas district of Asia Minor, and the pillaging of the Armenian quarter of Tokat for eight hours, are not satisfactory to the ambassadors of the powers, and unless there is a change in the situation very soon, it is believed that some of the powers would be compelled by public opinion to make a radical change of their policy toward Crete and Greece.

The remonstrance of Sir Philip Currie, the British ambassador, was one of the strongest ever delivered by an ambassador concerning the massacres in Armenia and was intended for a stern notification to the porto that further outbreaks in Armenia would not pass without vigorous action upon the part of the powers. The immediate result was the calling of an extraordinary meeting of the council of ministers at the Yildiz Kiosk last evening, at the end of which the ambassadors were notified that the sultan has ordered the dismissal of the prefect of police and chief of the gendarmerie of Tokat for not preventing the massacres and for failing to promptly put an end to the pillaging of the Armeian quarter of that city.

The mere dismissal of the two Turkish officials is not considered sufficient to demonstrate the displeasure of the sultan at the wanton killing of 100 Armenians, and is further looked upon as being likely to encourage additional outbreaks of the same nature. Consequently, Sir Philip Currie has made fresh representations to the porto, setting forth that serious consequences will follow the failure of the sultan to really punish those who are responsible for the Tokat outrage.

Although the result of the meeting of the ambassadors has not been allowed to become generally known in departmental circles here the opinion prevails that unless the ambassadors put forth definite threats of coercion in the event of failure of the sultan to adopt prompt and efficacious measures to prevent further massacres in Armenia, there is absolutely no hope of improving the situation, as it has been so frequently "intimated" to the sultan that he must reform that he now pays little or no attention to such communications.

In well informed political circles it is generally believed that, if fresh outbreaks occur, public opinion in Great Britain, France and Italy will compel the governments of the countries mentioned to change entirely their attitude on the Cretan question, not only towards Crete, but in regard to Greece, which might mean the lifting of the blockade, so far as the powers are concerned, and their positive refusal to take part in the proposed blockade of the principal ports and coasts of Greece. Indeed it is directly intimated that this proposition has already been practically abandoned by the three powers referred to, not only because such a step is likely to force Greece into open hostilities against Turkey; but, because the sultan with true eastern cunning, has taken advantage of the blockade of Crete by the fleets of the powers and bombardment of the insurgents by foreign warships and the assistance given to the Turks by the foreign marines, to place himself and his government in an entirely new light before the populace and elsewhere in the Ottoman empire.

An official communiqué was addressed by the Turkish government to the Turkish newspapers and provincial officials yesterday, representing that the course adopted by the powers in the Cretan affair was an example of the success of the sultan in that direction, and intimating that he has the full support of the powers with their fleets and armies, in the repressive measures which he may choose to adopt against the Christians in his dominions. This amounts practically to informing the Mussulmans that they have nothing to fear from the powers if they massacre Christians, as the Christian powers are supporting the sultan against his so-called "rebellious" subjects.

This has caused a decidedly bad impression in diplomatic circles in Constantinople and gives additional explanation of the determined stand which the British ambassador has undoubtedly assumed, as well as showing clearly how the sultan and his advisors regard the so-called "concert" of the powers. They know it does not exist, except as a hackneyed term, and they feel it can never exist so long as the map of Europe is not radically changed.

In the meanwhile preparations for war on a large scale are being steadily pushed forward, and the report of a possible agreement between Greece and Turkey on the basis of the appointment of Prince George of Greece as high commissioner of Crete, was followed by the issuing this morning of a special irado calling out for active service 44 battalions of the reserves of the second army corps and also summoning to the colors the whole contingent of 1897. The Turks believe that war with Greece will break out sooner or later, and they are nursing themselves with the belief that if they follow out the recommendations of the powers friendly to Turkey, the armies of the sultan will be permitted to cross the Greek frontiers of Macedonia and Epirus when the right moment arrives and push on to Athens, thus wiping the poor little kingdom of Greece off the face of the globe.

This explains the restraints put upon the Turkish commanders on the Greek frontier. They have been instructed not to cross the Greek frontier at present under any circumstances not even if attacked. The whole blame for an outbreak of hostilities must be thrown upon Greece, that is the program and then who can forbid the Turk from chastising the little kingdom?

But there are slips between cups and lips and the wheels of diplomacy are revolving night and day in the task of trying to solve the intricate eastern question without bloodshed. The future, however, from this city looks very threatening and the outcome obscure.

HER CREW SAVED.

Steamer Andros at the Bottom of the Atlantic With a Valuable Cargo.

BOSTON, March 25.—The steamer Ontario, which arrived here from London yesterday, brought into port 27 men, comprising the crew of the British ship Andros, Captain Morgan, which was abandoned at sea March 8, 800 miles west of Falmouth, England. The Andros left San Francisco Oct. 28, last year, for London. She sprung a leak in a furious storm, became unmanageable, and was abandoned.

The greater number of the rescued were well nigh helpless from exhaustion when taken from the Andros, and they had been working at the pumps and at jettisoning the cargo for many days and nights without intermission. Several times during the battle with the elements, men dropped from their places and were carried below by their comrades, and after resting they would drag themselves back to the deck to again engage in the work, even though in some cases they could not get upon their feet and worked while on their knees.

After the rescue most of the men had to be put to bed on board the steamer, but they are now fairly well and will probably be returned to Liverpool by steamer this week by British Consul Stuart.

When last seen the Andros was fast settling, preparatory to taking her final plunge to the bottom. The lost vessel was an iron ship of 1,892 tons net, built by Oswald, Mordauft & Company of Shouthropton in 1881 and was owned by E. F. & W. Roberts of Liverpool. She was valued at about £25,000, and is said to be nearly covered by insurance in English companies while American companies have large policies on the cargo, consisting of about 200 tons of grain and a large quantity of canned salmon, canned fruit, California wine and tallow. The cargo was said to be the most valuable that had left San Francisco during that year and while the exact valuation is not known it is estimated that it would reach into the hundreds of thousands.

EXCITING

Becomes the Senatorial Contest in Kentucky—It May Be Bradley.

FRANKFORT, Ky., March 25.—The several forces in Kentucky's famous senatorial struggle are lined up like armies ready for battle. The two battles already taken were but strength-trying skirmishes and no one knows which side will make the first real attack. It is whispered that the anti-Hunter Republicans are ready to act and are urging the Democrats who are in the Bradley coalition scheme to make the dash intended on today. Hunter with six bolting Republicans has secured three Democratic votes and is putting forth every effort to secure the two additional votes necessary to his election.

The anti-Hunter-Bradley coalition propose to hurry up matters to prevent his securing these votes. When the break does come and more than the six bolting Republicans go to voting with the Democrats for Bradley it is believed that some free silver Democrats will turn to Hunter and make the finish one of the closest and most exciting on record. Hunter lacked but two votes yesterday.

OVER A GIRL.

Holmes Brothers Fight a Death Duel Near Moore's Hill, Ind.

GREENSBURG, Ind., March 25.—George and Calvin Holmes, brothers, fought a duel to the death near Moore's Hill yesterday afternoon. The boys were twins and 23 years old. They are members of a prominent and wealthy family. Miss Higgs, over whom they fought, is the daughter of one of the wealthiest families in the county.

About a year ago George Holmes began paying attention to Miss Higgs and he was favorably received. Last Christmas his brother, Calvin, returned from college and met the young lady at a neighborhood dance.

They at once seemed smitten with each other and this aroused the jealousy of the girl's lover. Nothing was known of his feelings, however, until Sunday night, when Miss Higgs jilted him for his brother. A quarrel ensued. Yesterday afternoon the brothers met in the road. They quarreled and struck each other, when Calvin fired. Several shots were exchanged, when George dropped dead. Calvin is wounded over the heart.

Head Torn From Body.

SOUTH BEND, Ind., March 25.—At Waterville, Mich., a few miles north of here, Mark Peton, foreman of a paper mill, while coupling shafts, was caught, and his head was torn from his shoulders, while pieces of his body were scattered about the room. Several employees fainted upon witnessing the ghastly spectacle.

SMALLPOX IN CUBA.

Situation Said to Be as Bad as That in India.

HUNDREDS OF PEOPLE DYING.

The Rebellion Continues to Drag Its Slow Length Along—Both the Insurgents and Regulars Pursue the Work of Fire and Pillage and Honors Seem About Equal in the Work of Destruction.

KEY WEST, March 25.—According to official advices received here the insurgents on Thursday night attacked and burned the greater part of the village of Blanquillo, near Manzanilla. The insurgent leader, Acosta, at the same time attacked the fortifications in the vicinity of Hoyo Colorado, in the province of Havana. It is claimed that the Spanish were successful and the insurgents repulsed in a number of encounters.

It is reported that the insurgent leader, Pacho Carrillo, said to have been wounded in a recent engagement, is recovering from the effect of these injuries.

Advices have been received here to the effect that 40 insurgents recently succeeded in derailing a train en route from Isabela to Sagua. The engineer and seven of the trainmen were captured. After traveling with the prisoners for some distance the insurgents removed all the clothing from the train employees and then set them free.

An insurgent spy recently captured near the town of Salud made a confession upon the condition of a pardon being granted to him. He said that the insurgent forces would attack the town the next day. The local garrison was at once reinforced, and when the Cubans made an assault upon the town they were easily repulsed. The spy also betrayed the insurgent committee in the town, and as a result five persons were arrested upon charges of plotting against the crown of Spain.

Two thousand refugees from the famine-stricken districts, in the province of Matanzas, recently called at the headquarters of the government in the town of Matanzas and demanded permission to go out into the country for the purpose of obtaining food. It is reported here that the insurgents recently captured Jiguaní, on the road from Bayamo to Santiago de Cuba, also Santa Rita, located on the road to Holguín.

Smallpox is ravaging Bahia Honda. Hundreds of persons are dying. The refugees are said to be in a pitiful state. The situation can only be compared to that reported from India.

It is persistently rumored here that the San Juan de La Splayas and Sagua La Chica filibustering expedition was escorted to the interior of Cuba by the insurgent leader Lamez.

Advices have been received stating that the insurgents recently burned the town of Salamanca, in the province of Santa Clara. The church edifice was destroyed by fire and the contents tossed into the street and burned.

According to advices received here the insurgents have fired on the towns of Arroyo Pollo and Calabazar, in the province of Havana. Calabazar was burned and the splendid house owned by Sebastian Marstre, the former insurgent leader, was destroyed by the flames. Senior Marstre is now residing in Mexico, where he was recently married to Dolores Rubio, widow of the Spanish naval officer.

All of the tobacco fields in the San Juan Martinez district, in the province of Pinar del Rio, have been destroyed during recent Cuban attacks. According to advices received here the insurgents have fired on the towns of Arroyo Pollo and Calabazar, in the province of Havana. Calabazar was burned and the splendid house owned by Sebastian Marstre, the former insurgent leader, was destroyed by the flames. Senior Marstre is now residing in Mexico, where he was recently married to Dolores Rubio, widow of the Spanish naval officer.

The recent military operations in Santa Clara province have been without practical results. General Gomez, who was encircled by several Spanish columns at Damagal, Santa Clara, succeeded in evading them and it is said will invade Matanzas during the latter part of the month. Reports as to the reconcentration of peasants at Santa Clara, are contradictory, but probably about 5,000 men have joined the insurgents.

Both insurgents and regulars burn the canefields and farms, leaving the country bare. It is reported that the insurgents, taking advantage of the darkness, entered the outskirts of Holguín and sacked several stores. They burned 15 houses. A great many families have fled to La Saúd, where several hundred houses have been put up during the last fortnight to shelter them from the weather.

General Zinates, who, with 1,600 men left for San Luis Palma Algarizán, was repeatedly attacked by large bands of insurgents. He finally arrived at the Losos ranch, where Cibico was entrenched in a strong position near a hill. In the engagement which followed he was defeated.

According to the official reports General Zinates was attacked during the night and the next day while he was reconnoitering in the vicinity of Piedras, but defeated the insurgents whose losses are said to have been 26 killed. The Spanish troops had five killed and 20 wounded.

DENIED FROM HAVANA.

The Report That the Insurgents Had Captured the Town of Holguín.

HAVANA, March 25.—General Ahumada, who is acting captain general during the absence from this city of General Weyler, authorizes the correspondent of the Associated Press to deny the report published in the United States that the insurgents under Calixto Garcia have captured the town of Holguín, province of Santiago de Cuba. He adds that a steamer which has just arrived here from Gibara, the port of Holguín, reports that no news of an attack upon Holguín had been received up to the time of her sailing, no news of such an affair is contained in the newspapers and the correspondence from Holguín under date on the night of March 22, Monday last, makes no mention of any attack upon the town.

General Mario, the commander of a brigade of troops in the Holguín district, has also arrived here and denies that any attack has been made upon the town.

There are no means of communicating direct with Holguín at present.

WHILE PARENTS WORSHIP

Their Five Children Are Cremated in Their Home Nearby.

DES MOINES, March 25.—Five children of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Penrod, at Laddendale, a mining town on the Wappello and Davis county line, were burned to death Tuesday night. Three were cremated and two died a few hours later. They are:

Harry, aged 10.

John, aged 8.

Minerva, aged 6.

Ross, aged 4.

Blaine, aged 3.

The parents of the children took the oldest child of the family, a son, aged 12, and a baby in the arms of its mother and went to a religious meeting, having first put the other five children to bed. The schoolhouse, where the services were held, was only 100 feet from the Penrod home.

About 9 o'clock an alarm of fire was given and Penrod rushed out with the other occupants of the schoolhouse to find his house in flames. It was impossible to enter the house, as it was crumpling when Penrod reached it. The children's beds were by the windows, however, and Penrod burst the window open and succeeded in pulling the 8-year-old and 4-year-old boys out, horribly burning himself in the act. The two never regained consciousness, and died in a short time. The others were burned until only a few bones were found in the debris of the house. The coroner's inquest threw no light on the origin of the fire.

ENTIRE FAMILY CREMATED.

Not Determined Whether the Result of Murder or Accident.

NASHVILLE, March 25.—Tuesday night about 10 o'clock on Paradise Ridge, in this county, where there is quite a settlement of thrifty Germans, the house of Jacob Ade was discovered to be on fire and was in ruins before help could reach the place. In the ruins were found the almost entirely consumed bodies of Jacob Ade, Mrs. Jacob Ade, Lizzie Ade, aged 20 years; Henry Ade, aged 13 years, and Rosa Moiré, aged 10 years.

All day yesterday a crowd was at the scene of the tragedy, neighbors, people from this city, officers of the law investigating and surmising, but this morning it is uncertain whether the family were accidentally burned to death or whether they were murdered.

The murder theory is most generally believed. It is based by some on robbery, because Ade was known to keep money on hand and to have had several hundred dollars in the house. But if robbery was the motive the robbers failed, for in the ruins was found a tin can containing the remains of a large roll of bills. There is no evidence to show that Ade had any enemies in the neighborhood, though last Saturday he prosecuted a man for stealing hogs and had him bound over to the criminal court. There is, however, no evidence against this man.

UNCHANGED

Is the Flood Situation in the Lower Mississippi—Outlook More Cheerful.

MEMPHIS, March 25.—The river bulletin issued by the weather bureau today again announces a slight fall in the river at Memphis, a tenth of a foot. This has been the record for the past three days. The gauge therefore registers 38.8 feet. The bureau predicts that for the next 24 hours the river will remain about stationary. The fact that the river continues to rise at Cairo is sufficient evidence that no considerable fall may be expected in the immediate future.

The situation regarding the flood remains practically unchanged. The fact that the levees below the city on the Mississippi side still remain intact and the good news that they will probably be able to withstand any further rise is calculated to make the outlook more and more cheering.

News has been received by United States Engineer Fitch that the levee on the Arkansas side has broken in two places below Memphis, at Dawson, which is about 138 miles below Memphis, and one not far below Modoc. The report concerning these breaks seems authentic as Engineer Fitch has acted upon them with promptness. He has sent a boat with barges and skiffs for the assistance of the people in the country affected by these breaks.

The details concerning the break at Dawson are meager. The break near Modoc was not unexpected, as the levee seems to be weak in that vicinity, several breaks having already occurred in spite of every effort to prevent such disasters.

TALK ON ARBITRATION

Final Vote on Amendments to Be Taken Next Thursday.

ACTION OF HOUSE AND SENATE.

Messrs. McMillin and Grosvenor Make the Notable Efforts in the Tariff Discussion. Senator Hoar Would Stop the Pictures Reproducing Prize Fights—Nominations Sent In—Confirmations.

WASHINGTON, March 25.—Senator Davis, chairman of the senate committee on foreign relations, made a determined effort yesterday to secure unanimous consent to fix a day when the final vote should be taken on the arbitration treaty, but only succeeded to the extent of obtaining an agreement to a time for a vote on the miscellaneous amendments. The executive session continued from 12:30 until 5 o'clock. Considerable time was spent in contention over the effort to secure a time for a vote and it was only after decided controversy that the opponents of ratification agreed to a date for voting on the amendments. They based their opposition on the fact that there were a good many absenteers whom they considered desirable to have in the senate when the vote should be taken.

The understanding as to the vote on the amendments was reached on a plan outlined by Senator Hoar. It provides that the general discussion on amendments shall continue until 2 o'clock on Wednesday of next week, when a vote is to be taken on those which may be pending at that time; that in case any of the amendments are agreed to, the treaty as amended shall be printed and returned to the senate and shall still be open to amendment, but that the final vote on amendments shall be taken at 4 o'clock the following day, Thursday.

MASS CONVENTION.

Democrats to Meet Saturday, April 3rd, to Select Delegates to District Convention.

To the Democracy of Mason County: There will be a mass convention of the Democrats of Mason County Saturday, April 3rd, at 1 o'clock p.m. at the court house for the purpose of selecting delegates to represent said county in a delegate convention that meets at Vanceburg, Ky., on Wednesday, April 7th, 1897, to nominate a candidate for Circuit Judge and Commonwealth Attorney for this the Nineteenth Judicial District, to be voted for at the ensuing November election, 1897. Let there be a full attendance.

JOHN W. ALEXANDER,
Chairman Democratic Executive Committee, Mason County.

T. D. SLATTERY, Secretary.

INDICATIONS.
Partly cloudy weather, probably light flurries of snow on the lakes; west winds.

It is said thirty detectives have been in Frankfort this week, helping Dr. Hunter in his death struggle for the Senatorship.

REPRESENTATIVE THORNE's bill in regard to legal hangings should be adopted. It requires all judgments for capital punishment to be executed in the penitentiary. It would put an end to such crowds as assembled about the Newport jail the day Walling and Jackson were hanged.

The formal announcement of Mr. L. W. Galbraith as a candidate for County Superintendent of Schools appears elsewhere. Mr. Galbraith served in this capacity two terms a few years ago, and demonstrated his excellent qualifications for the position by the thorough manner in which he discharged his official duties. It was largely through his efforts that the special tax for the benefit of the public schools of the county was adopted. He has taken an active part in nearly every campaign since he became a resident of the county and has done excellent work for the party. If he should be victorious in the present contest, the office would be in worthy hands.

THE Chicago Tribune, though a rank Republican journal, is jumping on to the Dingley bill with both feet, so to speak. "While the duties on wool, it says, 'are the same as in the act of 1890, they are in reality higher. Wool is so much cheaper now than it was that year that a specific duty of 11 cents a pound gives more 'protection' to the ranchmen of the semi-arid regions than it did then. The heavy duties on wool and woollens worked very badly seven years ago. It is impossible to understand how members of the committee who are fully aware of that fact can fancy that duties which will be a little higher can be beneficial now to the country or their party."

Now if the Tribune didn't want a high tariff on wool and most everything else, why did it support the Republican ticket last fall? It knows well enough that its party platform last fall declared "protection" was one of the things this poor little country needed.

PUNCHING ONE ANOTHER.

Mad Republicans have a fight in the Capitol Hotel at Frankfort.

FRANKFORT, Ky., March 23.—An exciting fisticuff between two prominent Republicans enlivened the scene in the Capitol Hotel office to-night.

Ex-Congressman John D. White, of Clay County, and Hon. R. D. Hill, of Whitley County, a candidate for United States District Attorney, have been at dagger's points since the White-Colson primary election last summer. White having accused Hill of helping, while acting as Chairman of the District Committee, to rob him of the nomination.

The two met unexpectedly in the hotel office to-night. White, without saying a word, shot out his right and landed heavily on Hill's temple. It staggered Hill, who struck wildly at White and missed. White then landed again on Hill's neck. Friends interceded and avoided further damage.

SOME "FIGGERS"

For the Ledger Man to Study and Ponder Over.

If the Wilson-Gorman Law is a "Free Trade" Measure, Then What Was the McKinley Bill?

MARYSVILLE, MARCH 24TH, '97.

Editor Bulletin: The Public Ledger issue of March 23rd refers to the Wilson-Gorman tariff law as the "Wilson-Gorman free trade tariff." In looking over imports under the McKinley tariff law, we find our imports free of duty for the years 1891, '92 and '93 amounted $388,061,404 $38,074,601 and $144,472,064 respectively.

Under the Wilson-Gorman free trade, so-called by Public Ledger, the amount of imports free of duty for the years 1894, '95 and '96 amounted to $378,069,717, $370,890,100 and $368,697,523 respectively.

The total imports free of duty under the McKinley tariff law, for three years amounted to $1,290,901,072.

The total imports free of duty under the Wilson-Gorman "free trade" law for three years amounted to $1,17,830,30.

Our imports free of duty under the McKinley law amounted to $172,444,432 more than our imports free of duty under the Wilson-Gorman act.

We have heard so much about "free trade" from the Public Ledger, we would like to have him explain the above,—why we imported more goods free under the McKinley act than we did under the Wilson act. And he calls the Wilson act "free trade," and wants a law enacted like the McKinley law that will shut out foreign importations.

If the Public Ledger man would inform himself about the Wilson-Gorman and McKinley tariff laws, we are of the opinion that we would hear less about the so-called Democratic free trade that the protective tariff man of the Ledger writes so much about. Yours truly,

FREE TRADE.

Health and strength carry us through dangers and makes us safe in the presence of perils. A perfectly strong man with rich, pure blood, has nothing to fear from germs. He may breathe in bacilli of consumption with impunity. If there is a weak spot where the germs may find an entrance to the tissues, then the trouble begins. Disease germs propagate with lightning-like rapidity. Once in the blood, the only way to get rid of them is to kill them. That is what Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is for. It purifies the blood. That means that it kills the germs, but that is only part of what it does. It assists digestion by stimulating the secretion of the secretion of digestive fluids, so promoting assimilation and nutrition; purifies and enriches the blood and so supplies the tissues with the food they need. It builds up strong, healthy flesh and puts the whole body into a disease-resisting state.

CLARK AND SHELTON CASES.

Putting Arm or Head Out of a Car Window Contributory Negligence—Opinions of the Court of Appeals.

The Court of Appeals has affirmed the cases of Clarke's administrator and Shelton's administrator against the L. and N. Railway Company, taken up from Fleming County. The opinion in each case is by Judge Paynter. In the Clark case, the Appellate Court says:

First—In an action by a personal representative under Section 6 of Kentucky Statutes to recover damages for the death of his intestate, the petition alleging in one paragraph that the death was caused by the willful neglect of the defendant, and in another paragraph that it was caused by the gross negligence of defendant, but one cause of action was stated, and the way to correct the petition was not by a motion to compel plaintiff to elect which cause of action he would prosecute.

Second—Under Section 211 of the Constitution, which provides that whenever the death of a person shall result from an injury inflicted by negligence or wrongful act, then in every such case damages may be recovered for such death from the corporations or persons causing same.

It was impossible for the Legislature to fix the degree of negligence for which punitive damages may be awarded, and to provide, as it has done, by Section 6, Ky. Statutes, that such damages may be awarded where the "negligence is gross."

Third—The word "willful" as descriptive of a degree of negligence is now eliminated from the statute, the provision of Section 6, Kentucky Statutes, that punitive damages may be awarded where the "act is willful" having no reference to acts of negligence. And therefore the rule that contributory negligence could not be pleaded as a defense to an action for willful neglect which applied under Section 3, Chapter 57, General Statutes, does not apply to an action under Section 6, Kentucky Statutes, although willful neglect be alleged.

Fourth—Where a passenger on a railroad train in passing through a tunnel voluntarily, though inadvertently, placed a part of his arm outside the car window in placing his eye-glasses in his pocket, and while his arm thus protruded it came in contact with an upright timber in the tunnel causius an injury which resulted in his death, the passenger was guilty of such contributory negligence as to preclude a recovery from the railroad company.

Fifth—Where there is no controversy as to the facts or they are admitted, and but one inference can be drawn from them, then it is the duty of the court to declare their effect in law. And as the facts alleged in the petition in this case showed that plaintiff's intestate was guilty of such contributory negligence as to preclude a recovery, it was proper to sustain a demurrer to the petition.

The opinion in the Shelton case is as follows:

Where a passenger on a railroad train in passing through a tunnel became suddenly ill and placed his head outside one of the windows of the car for the purpose of vomiting, he was, although unconscious of what he was doing, guilty of such contributory negligence that his personal representative can not recover of the railroad company for his death resulting from an injury caused by his head coming in contact with an upright timber in the tunnel.

HUNTER STILL SHORT,

And the Wily Doctor and His Friends Are Not So Confident Now—Serious Trouble Narrowly Averted.

The joint ballot at Frankfort yesterday for Senator resulted as follows:

Hunter	67
Blackburn	19
Davie	11
Boyle	6
Stone	1
Tyler	1
Buckner	1

Necessary to elect 69. No choice.

Hunter and his friends were confident of winning on the first ballot, but they didn't. Then they were dead certain he would get the required number of votes on the next count, but it was the same old story, so near and yet so far.

That their confidence is beginning to wane is evident from the way they now talk.

The Bradleyites claim they will land their man in due time.

The feeling between the two factions is very better. Serious trouble was narrowly averted between Representative Tutt Burnam and other Hunter leaders and Senator Linney, Adjutant General Collier and friends of the combine on the floor of the House yesterday.

Burnam insisted that Collier and friends of the combine were using too much authority and insisted they should be put out.

Hot words followed and but for the intervention of friends trouble would have occurred.

Don't use "gritty" powder; it is not good for the enamel. Powdered chalk is as good as anything.

Don't use your tooth brush back and forth—that is, crosswise of your teeth—but up and down, as the bristles will get in between them.

Don't use too stiff a brush. This is apt to loosen the gum around the teeth, quite a serious matter, and will make the gums bleed, besides.

Don't allow more than six months to elapse before having your teeth examined. An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure in this case, if ever.

Don't bite off the ends of your silk or cotton when sewing. This is a very common practice, but very unnecessary when scissors are handy, and the edges of your teeth will be much saved thereby.

Don't think that brushing is all the care teeth require. A spool of dental floss is a toilet necessity, and a nightly going over with a piece of this indispensable aid to get the food particles, the primary cause of decay, out of the interstices, where the brush does not penetrate.

Don't have a dentist use his foot engine to remove any tartar or discoloration without first trying the end of a match stick wet and dipped in powdered chalk. With rubbing and perseverance this will almost always prove successful, and the first method, if resorted to too often, is injurious.

Don't forget that nothing alters a face or makes you look so much older as a set of artificial teeth, not to mention the discomfort of them or the pain in the beginning; so take good care of your teeth, as being one of the most important parts of your system. Very often serious and painful stomach trouble results from improper mastication from poor teeth.

Marvelous Results.

From a letter written by Rev. J. Gunderman, of Dimondale, Mich., we are permitted to make this extract: "I have no hesitation in recommending Dr. King's New Discovery, as the results were almost marvelous in the case of my wife. While I was pastor of the Baptist Church at Rives Junction she was brought down with Pneumonia succeeding La Grippe. Terrible paroxysms of coughing would last hours with little interruption and it seemed as if she could not survive them. A friend recommended Dr. King's New Discovery; it was quick in its work and highly satisfactory in results." Trial bottles free at J. James Wood's drug store. Regular size 50c and $1.

BANK TAXATION.

Important Decision of the Court of Appeals on the Subject.

The Hewitt Law Unconstitutional, and Banks Must Be Taxed as Other Property.

One of the most important decisions ever rendered by the Court of Appeals was handed down yesterday.

The bank tax cases that have been pending for some time were decided, the court affirming some and reversing others, the substance of the decision being that all banks are subject to county and municipal taxation, as well as State taxation; in fact, must be taxed just as other property is taxed.

With the whole court sitting, the following cases were taken up and decided.

Deposit Bank of Owensboro vs. Daviess County, Farmers' and Traders' Bank vs. city of Owensboro, Owensboro Savings Bank vs. same, Citizens' Savings Bank vs. same, Deposit Bank vs. same, from Daviess; affirmed in each case, Judges Hazelrigg, Burnam and DuRelle dissenting.

Simpson County Bank vs. city of Franklin; affirmed.

City of Carlisle vs. Deposit Bank of Carlisle, same vs. Farmers' Bank of Carlisle, Nicholas County vs. Deposit Bank of Carlisle, Nicholas; reversed.

Citizens' Bank of Shelbyville vs. city of Shelbyville, Shelby; Owensboro National Bank vs. city of Owensboro, Daviess; affirmed.

Commonwealth, etc., vs. Deposit Bank of Flemingsburg, same vs. Farmers' Bank of Fleming, Fleming; Bath County vs. Farmers' Bank; reversed.

The decision of the court affects every bank in the State. It reverses the previous decision, which held that banks should be taxed under the Hewitt law.

In 1895 the Legislature passed what is known as the Hewitt bill, according to which the banks were to pay to the State 75 cents on every $100 of their capital, and were not to be subject to any other taxation.

This was accepted by the banks. In 1893 the Legislature did away with the Hewitt law, and passed a bill taxing the banks according to the ad valorem system. The banks contested this, and they were sustained in their objection by the Court of Appeals in 1893, which held that the Hewitt law was in the nature of a contract with the banks.

But a number of banks had been formed since 1886, when the Hewitt law was passed, and these were subjected to the ad valorem tax. They sued, holding that they should not be taxed on other conditions than the old banks. These are the cases that were decided yesterday.

The Court of Appeals has been changed since 1893, and the present decision not only holds that the new banks shall be taxed on the ad valorem system, but also reverses the previous decision, holding that the Hewitt law is unconstitutional and that all banks shall pay an ad valorem tax.

Whether the banks can be made to pay back taxes will have to be decided by further litigation.

The opinion was written by Judge Paynter.

CAPTAIN COX'S BRAVES.

THE Meeting last Evening Full of Vim—The Score Stands 17 to 12 in Favor of "The Reds"—Juniors in it.

The Junior members of the association met yesterday afternoon and by a unanimous vote decided to have a membership contest similar to the one being conducted by the Seniors.

The boys were very enthusiastic and from present indications the Junior membership will be more than doubled.

The officers and members of the respective teams were chosen as follows:

"Reds"—Irwin Lee, Captain; Allie Worick and Windsor Sharp, Lieutenants; Laurance Piaster, Richard Carr, Lee Browning, Sam Oldham, Dan Perrine, Jr., James Gabby, Lovel Samuels, John Gabby.

"Blues"—John P. Cochran, Captain; Clayton Pecor and Benny Warder, Lieutenants; Keith Adamson, Samuel Daugherty, Robt. Scott, John Calhoun, Nelson Smith, Chas. Smith, Wm. Johnson, Suduth Calhoun.

The contest will close about the first of May.

The first new Junior was brought in last evening by Captain Cochran of the "Blues."

The meeting of "The Reds" last evening was full of vim, showing the true spirit of Captain Cox's braves. "Red Indians" was adopted as a name to distinguish them from the blue "Blue." A special committee was appointed to secure suitable names for each member of the tribe.

The Committee on Yells recommended the adoption of the old yell:

Boom-a-lac-a
Boom-a-lac-a!
Boom, boom, baw!
Indians, Indians!
'Rah! 'rah! 'rah!

After giving the yell in a very inspiring tone (to the Reds) but a very heart-rending tone (to the Blues) the meeting adjourned.

In view of the general interest being manifested in the present association membership contest, we desire to state to the public, so that the matter may be clearly understood, that at the recent meeting of Y. M. C. A. members, in which action was taken dividing the membership into the "Reds" and "Blues," the DAILY EVENING BULLETIN was elected to champion the cause of the "Reds," and the Daily Public Leader was chosen to advocate the cause of the "Blues."

J. E. CANFIELD, Secretary Y. M. C. A.

Three "Blues" and two "Reds" were added to the new recruits yesterday, making the score now stand:

"Reds" 17
"Blues" 12

ORGANIZED LABOR

Brings About the Most Imposing Tribunal That Ever Sat in England.

LONDON, March 25.—It has been reserved for a trade union and a question of organized labor to bring about the temporary organization of the most imposing judicial tribunal that ever sat in this country to hear argument and deliver judgment, even upon a question relating to the crown. The tribunal, as constituted by Lord Chief Justice Russell, will assemble early next month, and will consist of the house of lords, the bench of lord justices of appeal, headed by the lord chief justice, and eight judges of the queen's bench. The plaintiffs in the case are a number of nonunion boilermakers, while the defendant is the National Boilermakers' union. A year ago the union demanded of the Glengall iron works that it should discharge all the nonunion men in its employ, and threatened in case of a refusal to withdraw all the union men from the works.

The Glengall company, having important time contracts to fulfill, complied with the wishes of the union and the nonunion men were thrown out. Thereupon they brought suit against the union and recovered damages for $25,000. The judgment was sustained in court after court until it reached the house of lords. Here it was again argued, but their lordships, in view of the importance of the issue, were unable to reach a decision, and therefore decided that the question should be reargued, and that the lord justices of appeal and the judges of the queen's bench should take part in the hearing and in formulating a decision.

ANOTHER LINE TO THE PACIFIC.
Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe and Southern Pacific in a Big Deal.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 25.—A great railroad deal, the accomplishment of which is near at hand, implies a revolution in trans-continental relations and the opening of the west coast trade of Mexico to California in general and to San Francisco in particular. The parties to the arrangement are the Southern Pacific company and the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe, and the deal contemplated is the exchange in ownership of two long and important stretches of road.

By its consummation the Southern Pacific will enter into possession of a direct route to the city of Guayamas on the gulf of California, while the great eastern organization will be able to reach the Philadelphia seaboard over a line wholly independent of the Southern Pacific and owned wholly by itself. The project is one of the biggest yet conceived in transportation, and involves advantages of the most substantial kind to the two corporations involved, as well as benefit to the commercial interests of California at large.

SOCIALIST BOLT.

Six Thousand in New York Rebel Against the "Bosses" in Their Own Party.

NEW YORK, March 25.—The World says: There is a serious break in the ranks of the socialists. More than 6,000 members have rebelled against what they term dictatorship, and the defection threatens to spread. Up to date the dissatisfied members have not rejected the platform of the Social Labor party, but the feeling is so high that no one can foretell what the end will be.

Four strong union organizations have bolted from the Socialist Trade and Labor alliance. They are the Children's Jacket Makers' union, the Shirtmakers' union, the Knee Pants Makers' union and the Passemeister Makers' union. These unions have a membership of more than 6,000.

The real trouble seems to be a determination on the part of the machine bosses to make political use of the trades unions. The rebels declare that the bosses practically dictate to the unions what shall be done. As said, these bolters are not ready to renounce their socialist principles, but they declare that they will join the American Federation of Labor, which is a non-partisan body.

Historic Trees in New York.

On West One Hundred and Fifty-ninth street and St. Nicholas avenue, Washington Heights, stand a number of remarkable trees. They were formerly the grounds surrounding the old Jumel mansion, which is now known as Earle Cliff. They are Egyptian cypress, and have a history, like everything pertaining to this remarkable mansion and its grounds. They were sent as a present to Napoleon Bonaparte from the sultan of Egypt as a gift of honor, but arrived in Havre, France, after the battle of Waterloo. Stephen Jumel, who was in France at the time, and a personal friend of Napoleon, succeeded in gaining an audience with the emperor the night before he was banished to the island of St. Helena. Napoleon presented these trees to Jumel, who brought them to America on the clipper ship Eliza, which he had chartered with the hope of aiding Napoleon to escape to this country. These trees, when brought here, had their native earth still clinging to their roots. They were planted as described above, where they flourished and grew to a large size, spreading out their peculiar branches wide over their adopted soil—a mute reminder of the decay of empires as well as people.—New York Times.

Earth Slips on the Track.
WHEELING, March 25.—Ruins for the past day or so have caused the railroads running into this city much worry. The Baltimore and Ohio, at the narrows, three miles south, almost the entire side of the mountain slipped towards the river, covering the track completely. The Benwood and Southern railroad sustained several thousand dollars' damage at the same point.

He Would Not Be Undersold.

Colonel James Tamplin, a veteran of the Mexican and civil wars, is a veritable walking history of the wars, in which he bore himself with much honor. Colonel Tamplin was reading a paper recently, when he saw a mention of the president of one of the great railroads centering in Chicago. "I'll tell you a story about that man," he said. "When we were hanging around Vicksburg looking for trouble with the 'Johnnies,' there was more or less foraging. I remember this man, then a private in our company, while nosing about the adjoining farms ran across a barrel of prime cider. Being a good soldier, he promptly confiscated the cider and employed an aged darky to tote it into camp.

"Cider was scarce in those days, and he rigged up a temporary bar and was soon doing a lively business retailing it at 10 cents a cup. The barrel stood well back in his tent, and for a time he was so busy filling orders that he paid no attention to a disturbance in the rear of the tent. Then the crowd began to dwindle and he realized that something was wrong. He implored a passing soldier to sample his wares, but the fellow shook his head and said the price was too high. 'There's a fellow around here selling cider at 5 cents a glass,' he said.

"The owner of the barrel took a turn around his tent and found a great crowd gathered in the rear. Another member of the company had driven a spigot into the other end of the barrel and was doing a land office business. Well, he saw the game was up, and rather than be outdone he invited the whole crowd around in front and told them to pitch in. He was willing to meet competition, and rather than be undersold by his own goods he would ladle out the cider free.

"I reckon, however," added Colonel Tamplin, "that he had made enough before the trick was discovered to give him a start in the railroad business, for I see he has been doing quite well ever since."—Chicago Times-Herald.

Grant's Patent of Nobility.

During the years of his second administration President Grant was accustomed to spend his summers at Montauk Beach, N. J. Near his cottage was that of Gen. George M. Robeson, secretary of the navy, whose family consisted of his wife, his 4-year-old daughter Ethel, and his 8-year-old stepson, Richard Aulick, whose father had been a commander in the navy.

It was the custom of all war vessels to fire a series of salutes as they passed the secretary's cottage. These were conscientiously returned by young Aulick, who had mounted a toy cannon at the foot of the flagstaff in front of the house.

One morning while the children were playing with some companions they were startled by the booming of guns, and rushing to the front yard they beheld great smoke wreaths drifting away from the United States ship Tallapoosa. Without further ado Richard applied the fuse to his gun and acknowledged the salutation. While thus employed the kneeling boy suddenly felt three light blows on his back, and looking up beheld the figure of the president standing beside him. In one hand the nation's chief held a lighted cigar, while in the other the astonished boy saw a toy sword belonging to his sister Ethel.

"Rise, Richard; I dub thee knight," said the rugged old warrior, amid the laughter of several friends who attended him.

Then, returning his cigar to his lips, he smiled grimly and resumed his way.—Atlanta Constitution.
